THE ALDERMEN.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the Committee on Public Health and Police of the City Council, consisting of Aldermen [illegible], met in the Council chamber to consider the ordinance introduced by Alderman Kipley providing for the payment of the $1000 saloon license in three instalments. The committee was called to order by Chairman [illegible], and the following aldermen answered to their names: [illegible]. Absent: [illegible].

Alderman Kipley explained the object of the ordinance, which was to relieve the saloonkeepers of the burden of paying the $1000 license in one payment. He thought that the payment of $500 now and $250 each in August and November would be more convenient for the saloonkeepers.

Alderman [illegible] thought that the ordinance should be amended so as to provide that the first payment should be made on the 1st of May, instead of the 1st of April, as the saloonkeepers would not have the money by the latter date.

Alderman [illegible] moved that the ordinance be amended as suggested by Alderman [illegible].

NEW YORK, March 10.—[Special.]—With a determination regarding the New Underground Railroad Company which is unprecedented in the history of railroads, work was commenced this afternoon on the extension of the Lexington avenue line from the Grand Central depot to the Harlem River. Mayor Hewitt, Commissioner Gilroy, Chief Engineer Parsons, Superintendent Haskin, Commissioner Andrews, and several other officials of the Rapid Transit Commission, and a number of the directors of the New York Underground Railroad Company were present. Mayor Hewitt turned the first spadeful of earth, and Commissioner Gilroy followed with a few shovelfuls. Then Chief Engineer Parsons, Superintendent Haskin, and Commissioner Andrews each took a turn at the work. The ceremony was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators, who had learned of the intended proceedings, and who cheered the officials as they left the scene. The contract for the work was awarded to Messrs. Lamb & Rich, of this city, and the contract price is $1,000,000. The work is to be completed by the 1st of May, 1891. The contract calls for the construction of a four-track road from the Grand Central depot to the Harlem River, and the tracks are to be laid on the present level of Lexington avenue. The road will be operated by electricity, and will be connected with the Brooklyn Bridge and Thirty-fourth street ferry. The Lexington avenue line will be extended to the Harlem River Bridge, and will connect with the Third avenue elevated road. "person." This resolution was adopted, all the Democrats and Greenbackers voting against it. Meanwhile the State Department has sent to Minister Sargent a diplomatic note, the text of which remains undisclosed. In the note the American Government notes the delay that the Lyons Government of the Congress, in responding to overtures with the Geneva Committee, took no action with the American Government relating to negotiations, or which, in the opinion of the American Government, should have ordered the expel or disaffection of the Canada Government.

At the fifteenth annual meeting of the Chicago Lumberman's Exchange yesterday the old Board of Directors was unanimously re-elected. The Committee on High Licenses is developing an almost legislative energy and enterprise in the interests of the Keeper and, considering the backwardness that the passage of a necessary law has been largely due to the efforts of the contingent. The membership of the body is reported at 111 persons. During the year $900 were disposed for charitable purposes. According to the report of the Secretary the receipts of lumber to date in Chicago during 1883 aggregated 1,497,815,000 feet. The sales for the year were about 1,500,000,000 feet in excess of receipts, and the shipments were 1,500,475,000 feet, showing that about 500,000,000 feet was consumed in the city.

Workmen's wheels and wheels and gearing of the eccentric cutting-frame look on consistency, the tools of the United States with Russia has been growing rapidly in the last eight years. In 1870 we exported to that country but $1,000,000; last year our exports were $10,000,000. Russia's exports to this country in the same time have risen from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000. The development of this commerce in the face of all the obstacles that have been placed in its pathway by the Russian Government is remarkable. The Russian Government, for instance, took no notice whatever Achmet, the Alleged Informer, in Danger of Assassination—Free with Advice.

Queen Victoria Will Induce Prince Leopold to Unbend a Few Minutes for Society

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Paris, March 10.—[Gladstone's report, in Paris, contains a threatening note directed against the Czar in Paris. The note says the conspiracy to prevent the Russian army is energetically in active work of propaganda against the Russians and that the Government has resolved to adopt the most energetic measures against the promoters. On the Czar's return with a grand new palace completed in the Crimea, the Czar has given him a two-story palace in Moscow which, a prince belonging to the conspiracy is to blow up during Easter festivities.

ASSASSINATE HIS INFORMERS.

Paris, March 10.—It appeared from the disorder has declared that the Communists are actually bent on the destruction of the principal buildings. They are determined to persevere. An attempt to blow up the Arc de Triomphe, by the explosion of petroleum, is considered a very probable future development. The most dreaded effect would be that of gunpowder. Some Communists are known to have purchased the explosive. Two such should not be suspected of the outrages. It has the appearance indeed that an association of assassins has been formed for the purpose of getting rid of informers. The most dreaded of the latter is one Achmet, who has given information which has led to the arrest of many Communists. Achmet is now in hiding, for he has received letters threatening his life. He is also in danger of assassination by the Communists themselves, who suspect him of betraying them.

[Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.]

TOPEKA, Kan., March 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Glick is being severely urged from all parts of the State to summon the Legislature to enact more stringent laws to take useful action to guard the borders of the cattle-growing States and neighboring counties. It is reported that the disease is on the increase and that the local power to eradicate it seems to be difficult. The United States veterinary surgeon, at Fort Leavenworth, is investigating and unfairly very thoroughly and inexpensive a virulent case of the genuine foot-and-mouth disease. Also, it is the same as is now prevalent in England, and that it is the same disease that appeared in this country in 1871, and again in 1879. Dr. W. H. Hoff, a prominent veterinary surgeon of Kansas City, is also investigating the subject at Texas towns, in Western Kansas where great numbers of cattle are driven annually, and may have left.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

Those who are clearing the depot in West and Kansas under direction of Gov. Glick commenced, in addition to the quarantine, the following precautions: As soon as the disease is discovered every affected animal should be separated at once from the herd, and kept there should be thorough disinfection. The quarters should be thoroughly cleaned and whitewashed. The quarantine ought to be maintained for three weeks after the last symptom of the disease has disappeared. Every herd that is now under quarantine should be kept there for at least three weeks from the date of the last case. The owner that evades this law should be severely punished. Cattle should not be moved from one locality to another, and should be kept off the highways. Persons who have been in contact with diseased animals should not visit healthy herds. Cattle should not be fed upon hay that has been exposed to the disease. Cattle should not be allowed to drink from streams that pass through infected districts. Cattle should not be allowed to run together at fairs, stock-yards, or other public places. Cattle should not be shipped by railroad or steamboat from infected districts. [illegible] will be a meeting tomorrow at [illegible] Kansas City, Mo., and other cities, attended by many prominent stockmen, in addition to the quarantine, the following precautions: As soon as the disease is discovered every affected animal should be separated at once from the herd, and kept there should be thorough disinfection. [illegible] Kansas have been held to Chase, Osage and [illegible] counties, to consider the question of putting in the management of the disease's ravages. A number of the residents of that county were present, and it was decided to petition the Governor to call a special session of the Legislature, to enact such laws as may be necessary to prevent the spread of the disease. Another meeting will be held in Topeka, March 20, at which time the Governor will be present.

[illegible] Kansas, March 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Glick has issued a proclamation calling upon the citizens of Kansas to take immediate steps to prevent the spread of the foot-and-mouth disease among cattle. He says that the disease is of a most malignant character, and that it has appeared in the State. He calls upon the citizens to assist in every way in their power to prevent the spread of the disease, and to report to the proper authorities any cases that may come to their notice. He also

At 2:30 last Saturday afternoon Mr. James Charlton, General Passenger Agent of the Chicago & Alton, received a letter from Mr. T. J. Anson, Chairman of the last committee of Chicago Passenger Agents of each board there, asking him to confer Sunday (yesterday) with the members of the committee regarding the making of orders by the Chicago & Alton from St. Louis to New York, via Chicago at an extremely low rate, for all other routes, some of which have been a longer, although from St. Louis to New York that the Chicago & Alton owns the Chicago.
